GAINS AT ROTICK

After months on the front, army makes advance on city.

After it's early capture in the war, the city of Rotick is preparing for liberation from the oppressive occupation at the hands of the Russlanic Army. Stories of abuse, terror, and slavery have come out of the city since the Russlandic Boar took the city, and the Bracian people have called for the rescue of their borthers and sisters. Our reporters at the front have reported the breaking of the Russ line, and report that the Penie to perform for troops.

Famous singer and songwriter Penie, has scheduled a concert in support of the troops at the front. She has coordinated with the Bracian high command to schedule the show. Some have criticized the singer because she has performed for the enemy. When asked for a statement by our reporter she replied, "It is important to remember that once this conflict is done, we will all have to stand together again. I see these concerts as my way of helping to remind people

Bracian wineries have rough season.

While some had hoped that the bitterly cold winter last year might produce sweeter wines this harvest, it seems as though the experts might disagree.

Dr. Williamton, professor of viticulture at Rotick University told the Reporter; "While the winter should have made for a perfect season, there is something else that has caused the grapes to sour."

Experts are currently trying to figure out has caused this, but remind people to buy local and
