

Crafting Magic Potions

A character who is proficient in Alchemist's Supplies, an Herbalism Kit, or a Poisoner's Kit can craft a variety of magical potions and oils. Many potions require the crafter to be proficient in Arcana. A potion may not be attempted if you do not possess the recipe, with the exception of the various healing potions. You may pick 3 recipes to start upon selecting a tool proficiency. You can begin to brew one potion during a short or long rest, although you do not gain benefits during a short rest if you do so. You will need raw materials to begin brewing a potion which can be purchased from various shops. In addition, some potions require special ingredients or a spell. When a potion recipe requires a spell to be cast, the spell must be cast on the potion at the beginning of the brewing process on the first day. This spell does not need to be cast by the person crafting the spell, a spell caster can assist the crafter during the first night of brewing. The brewing times, costs, proficiency requirements, level requirements, and special components are summarized on the below chart:
